LEXINGTON FAIR

The animals of the Lexington County Fair Association are now ready for exhibition and auction. All of the stalls have been painted, new stalls built for the horses and the main building put in best class condition. The deep well has been dug furnishing a sufficient quantity of excellent water for all purposes.

The indications are that the exhibits will be up to their usual high standard both in quality and quantity.

Mr. D. Zimmerman of St. Matthews, the well known expert horse Judge will award the premiums if the arena.

It will be well for all those intending to come to make their entries to the Secretary as soon as convenient in order to avoid the rush near the opening.

The agency's books will be open to entries at its office in Lexington on Saturday and at the Fair grounds Monday 8th. Be sure to remember the Fair will be held Saturday, Nov. 1st, and Sunday Nov. 2nd.

Despite previous entries the Secretary's office was besieged to a late hour with clamorous exhibitors anxiously awaiting their time of registration. The handsome building, though spacious and conveniently

A GRAND SUCCESS.

WAS THE TRI-COUNTY FAIR--VERY LARGE ATTENDANCE.

THE EXHIBITS WERE EQUAL TO ANY STATE FAIR.

ALL DURING THE WEEK THE IMMENSE CROWD WERE IN SPLENDID HUMOR AND NOT A SINGLE ARREST MADE FOR DRUNKENNESS--NEXT WEEKS ISSUE WILL CONTAIN A COMPLETE ACCOUNT

The Tri-County Fair far exceeds their usual wont. Frisky colts, lowing kine, sheep, goats and swine are numerously entered.

The poultry exhibit is replete in many varieties of fowl yard lore.

The building is comfortable and well arranged. The exhibits are above the average. Stately turkeys and quacking ducks, plump Plymouth Rocks, White Rodents and whiter Leghorns, thrifty Wyandotts, geese, peacocks and pigeons, Rhode Island Reds, Belgium Hares, Bronze and White Holland Turkeys, etc.

The collection of both potted plants and cut flowers is simply superb and the beauteous display was largely enhanced by the artful efforts and artistic arrangement of

Mr. T. L. Kernaghan, Batesburg's most notable flower grower. The collection of the judges on the merits of the respective plants were rendered Tuesday 9 p. m. The ladies serving in that capacity are connoisseurs in the growing of flowers and faithfully awarded the premiums on merit alone.

Following are their names:

Mrs. Louise Boatwright, E. J. Etheridge, J. A. Watson, Broadus Edwards, Miss Lizzie Bates and herewith appended are the prize takers as per list.

The prizes awarded, Flowers, Potted.

—Mrs. Leaphart, best collection geraniums, palms and ferns 1st prize.

Mrs. J. W. Dreher, 1st, Mrs. Jim Crosson, 2nd.

Collection Roses.

Mrs. J. W. Dreher, 1st, Mrs. Lampinart, 2nd.

Rubber Plant, B. N. Bode, 1st.

On the second day of the exhibition building interest now centers in the domestic and fancy work department. What a lovely display grows the eye. The creative fancy and patient skill of woman is only shaded by the loveliness of her handicraft. Awakening tender sensibilities of ye olden time there are the ancient spinners, here a pair of loister-hoisters, there the raised web of the grandmothers time, the woven spreads treasured for their sacred associations, silk spreads of incalculable worth.

Art piece too numerous to mention.

Hobby's brooches suggestive patterns, baby feet perhaps now stilled but all wonderful creations in needle craft. This department in charge of Miss Lizzie Bates and Miss Lizzie Dreher was judged on Tuesday

also by ladies most versed in needle art and interested in its highest development, Mesdames, N. R. Bayly,

W. C. Farber, E. J. Etheredge, J.

FARMERS' BUSINESS

We give particular attention to the business of farmers.

A checking account with a bank is a convenience no farmer should be without.

Our savings department is another excellent feature affording, as it does, the privilege of withdrawing with 1 per cent. interest after three months. Certificates of deposit issued bearing 5 per cent interest.

Our offices are always at the disposal of our customers.

We cordially invite the farmers to make this their Banking Home.

NATIONAL
BATESBURG

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cullum have returned from Colorado Springs.

Misses Elsie and Edna Bates, of Columbia College, took in the fair this week.

Mr. William Mitchell of Mountville spent several days in town this week.

Miss Cora Belle Rogers is spending a few days with her parents at Bishopville.

Mr. Kellers Mitchell of South Carolina College was a visitor here Monday.

Miss Eva Yarborough has returned from an extended trip north.

arranged was used to the utmost profit. Mr. M. E. Rutland, comprising space to accommodate the enclosures of home grown hay magnificently overtopping a bale of corn.

Leaving the city of Batesburg for ton, bags and bales of grain, manure and plant stuff, woman is impressed by the varied and wonderful resources of the country leading to an eminence as our Southland while the grapevines though by nature planned for an extensive life, the more clearly do we find this illustration.

night time as it were and magic strains of music. On the green- for itself and nuggets of gold would speak louder than words. The will-o-the-wisp would we but indul- Laban of old our cattle should roar on a thousand hills. The tastefully decorated candy booth of the Methodist Episcopal church presided over by Mrs. Boatwright and Mrs. Carwile supplied home made candies. The 5 and 10cts. store did a rushing trade. The magnificent buggy display of Mr. M. E. Rutland elicited many gratifying remarks.

The Batesburg Bottling works display was a work of art. The combination of bottles placed in a pyramid so as the light would show through made a rare exhibit indeed.

The different colored extracts were so arranged that the colors blended beautifully. Mr. B. P. Whitehead deserves great credit for this, one of the most attractive exhibits at the Fair; and the W. B. Altman Iron Works with the Leesville Manufacturing Co., deserve encomiums of praise because of home industries and high grade worth. Not to be ignored is the Grey Rock exhibit by the enterprising J. Wm. Mitchell of Summerland. Artistic in its arrangement and suggestive in its purity of sparkling fountains of health restoring waters.

The Flower Exhibit.

An ecstatic wonder and admiration is elicited by a glimpse into this bower of fairy land.

"Old Flowers ye are living preachers."

Each cup a pupil; each leaf a book, Supplying to our fancy numerous teachers from lowest nook."

No painter's brush can rival the dainty coloring of their bloom, Nor pen portray the permeating breath of their sweet perfume.
